

The graph displays the frequency of six user roles over time. The 'engaged_commentator' role (blue line) is the most prominent, showing significant fluctuations with major peaks in early 2010 and early 2011. The 'common_commentator' role (brown line) maintains a low, steady frequency throughout the period. The other roles—'systematic_blogger' (orange), 'engaged_blogger' (green), 'influential_blogger' (red), and 'encouraging_blogger' (purple)—show very low frequencies, often dropping to zero for extended periods.

